INTO THE HUDSON

Plunged a New York Central Passenger Train.

TWENTY-EIGHT LIVES LOST.

Recent Floods Caused a Retaining Wall to Give Way.

THE SLEEPING CARS ESCAPED.

Graphic Descriptions Given by Those Who Were Rescued.

PASSENGERS DROWNED LIKE RATS.

Victims in One Car Were a Bruised and Mangled Mass, Indicating That They Had Probably Fought Like Demons.

Garrison, N. Y., Oct. 25.—The retaining wall, undermined by high water, gave way and a New York Central passenger train was thrown into the Hudson river. Twenty-eight lives are supposed to have been lost. The sleeping cars remained on the tracks. The only eye-witnesses to the disaster were the crew of a tug boat which was passing. Some of the cars with closed windows floated, and the tug whistling for help, cast off its hawser and started to the rescue.

The day coach and smoker had gone down in the deep water and rescue was impossible. In the latter coach the conditions must have been horrible.

The car turned completely over and the passenger end of it was in the deep water, while the baggage end stood up towards the surface.

The men in that lower end must have fought like fiends for a brief period, for the bodies, when taken out, were a mass of wounds.

The train consisted of one American express car, one composite baggage and smoking car, one day coach and six sleepers.

There were in the sleeper, in addition to baggage man Herman Acker of Peekskill, who was in his compartment, eight Chinamen en route from the Canadian border to New York and a middle-aged man supposed to be Thomas Reilly of 2800 Wisconsin avenue, St. Louis. All of these except the baggage master perished.

The day coach contained 18 or 20 passengers, many of whom were women and children. How many of these escaped is not known, but at least 12 were drowned or killed in this car.

Just how the train met its awful fate will never be fully known, for the men who first felt the danger, Engineer John Foyle and Fireman John Tompkins, lie dead in the cab of their locomotives at the bottom of the Hudson river.

Conductor Parish, who was in charge of the train and who was making up his report in one of the cars when the crash came, was rendered unconscious by a blow on the head. When he recovered he was three seats ahead of the one in which he had been sitting.

One of the few occupants of the coach who escaped was Frank J. Degan, a wood finisher of New York. His left eye was cut by broken glass and his body was slightly bruised. Mr. Degan made this statement:

"As near as I can judge, there were 15 people in the coach, most of them being women and children, and nearly all were asleep.

"When the crash came the car gave a great lurch and rolled over on its side. The water rushed in and almost instantly the lights went out. I knew we were in the river, and the car seemed to plow through the water for some time after it was submerged.

"The car was tilted over on one side and I managed to reach the fan light overhead and cling to it until help came.

"I heard people in the back part of the car groaning as if they were pinned fast. It was so dark that I could see no one, and I think the passengers must have been drowned like rats.

"After a while (it seemed an age) I heard people on top of the car and an ax crashed through the roof. The noise of that ax in the splintered timbers made the sweetest music I ever heard in my life. Soon they had a hole cut in the roof and pulled me out through it.

"A man and a boy (father and son) were also rescued in the same way, but I knew of no other occupants of the coach escaping. The car at the time was floating but fast filling with water, and we were put ashore in a row boat."

Of the dramatic horror of the situation in the combination car when it left the track and struck the water, perhaps the best account is had from the story of Herman Acker of Peekskill, the baggage man and mail sorter. He said:

"John Shaw, agent of the Westcott Express company, and myself were in the compartment, when suddenly there was a terrible bump and then a rush of water that forced us toward the ceiling. The car seemed to turn completely over and had filled with water to within about a foot of the top.

"When we struck the car whirled completely around, the end which the Chinese occupied being under water, while our end was tilted up. We swam around and got a ventilator open and, noting the situation, got an ax from a tool box which was afloat.

"With this we cut our way out and then turned our attention to assisting others as best we could."

Help was summoned and when the wrecking train arrived the big derrick hauled the submerged cars out of the water, and the dead bodies of those who were drowned were thus recovered.

BELONGS TO ENGLAND.

The French Claims in Africa Are Without Support.

London, Oct. 25.—Captain John Frederick Lugard, British officer in command in the Kalahari desert, South Central Africa, who was for some time in command in British East Africa and later was connected with the Royal Niger company, has just returned to London from central Africa. In the course of an interview as to the difficulties between the British and the French in the Hinterland of Lagos, in west Africa, Captain Lugard said:

"Beyond the fact that the government has telegraphically summoned me for special service in west Africa, I know nothing as to my future movements. With regard to the French claims, however, the case is quite clear. 'Borgu, of which Nikki is the capital, indisputably belongs to England by virtue of a treaty concluded with the king prior to any so-called treaties with France or any other European nation. We have also treaties with Ilesha and Kaima, the only two other important chiefs in Borgu.'"

CONSPIRACY TO MURDER.

Sheriff Martin of Pennsylvania Was to Be Assassinated.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 25.—An alleged conspiracy to murder Sheriff Martin, who led the deputies who fired upon and killed a score of strikers at Latimer on Sept. 10, has been discovered by the arrest of John Sepak, who was wounded in the riot.

The complaint was the sheriff's son, William, who said he overheard Sepak threaten to kill his father. On Sepak was found a razor wrapped in a printed circular describing the shooting and calling for vengeance.

From talk overheard, it is said that the prisoner is one of a gang of 15 detained by the foreigners to murder the sheriff. He denies the charge.

Acted Like a Maniac.

New York, Oct. 25.—Jacob Pfam, 45, was taken from an Ontario and Western train here because he acted like a maniac. Investigation shows that the man is on his way from Bismarck, N. D., to Odessa. The police believe that he had been drugged and robbed. Papers on the man show that he had made arrangements for sailing, but there was neither money nor a ticket on his person.

SOBER AND DIGNIFIED.

Such Is the Estimate of Spain's Note to Uncle Sam.

THAT IS THE FOREIGN IDEA.

However, the Spanish Navy Is to Be Strengthened at Once in the Caribbean Sea Under a Very Flimsy Pretext.

Madrid, Oct. 25.—The Spanish press unanimously supports the attitude of the government, which it calls immensely sober and dignified, but the impression is that the controversy with the United States has reached a critical stage, which may be the prelude to a rupture.

Members of the cabinet contended that Spain has the right after her tremendous sacrifices in Cuba to demand the observance of international neutrality by other nations.

One of them added: "The Gordian knot is the United States, without whose help the rebellion would long ago have been suppressed. We do not want war, but every European nation will approve of our defense of our international rights."

The Spanish naval forces in the Caribbean sea will be strengthened on the pretext of a necessity for increased vigilance on the Cuban coast.

A member of the cabinet says the government intends to give Cuba complete local government with universal suffrage to elect municipal and provincial councils and an insular parliament.

The latter will be composed of upper and lower chambers, having entire control of taxation and tariff. The responsible government will be composed of five ministers, whose council will be presided over by the governor general.

Senators and deputies for Cuba will continue to sit in the Spanish cortes and the imperial government will still control the army, navy, police tribunals and foreign affairs of the colony exactly as the program of the Autonomists demanded.

The government has received promises of the support of both the Autonomists in Cuba and of those residing in France and the United States, and expects no opposition from the other colonial parties.

The same minister says the government does not believe the Spanish note will cause friction with the United States, because it is couched in a friendly tone and virtually shows that Spain is doing what the United States has repeatedly advised.

IDLEST OF DREAMS.

For Spain to Expect Help From Any European Power.

London, Oct. 25.—With reference to Spain's note to the United States The Standard says editorially: "Events have proved that the United States fixed the end of October as the date for Spain to reply to General Woodford's note, and the coming ministry has bettered the situation as between Spain and the United States."

"It is highly improbable that the United States will declare war with Spain, but it may recognize the Cubans as belligerents. It would then devolve upon Spain to decide what resort to make to that damaging move. It appears, therefore, that the grave risk of capture hovers Spain with cool, dispassionate circumspection, to ask itself what would be the result of hostilities with America. We are thoroughly alive to the courage and patriotism of Spain. But she would be hopelessly overmatched in such a contest."

"The American navy, though of modest dimensions, is of excellent quality and could be increased indefinitely, whereas, there are good grounds for believing that the Spanish ships in the West Indies are in a most unsatisfactory condition, and even in the important matter of speed, fall far short of modern requirements. Such a war would inevitably mean the loss of Cuba after a costly and disastrous struggle, which Spanish statesmanship ought to do everything in its power to avert."

"We believe it is the idlest of dreams for Spain to hope for assistance from European power. No doubt the United States would manage to leave with Spain the responsibility of declaring war, and Europe has too many burning questions of its own in Europe, Africa and Asia to saddle itself gratuitously with another in the new world."

Only One Passenger.

Port Townsend, Wash., Oct. 25.—The schooner Fischer Brothers has arrived, after a remarkably rough trip from St. Michaels, her only passenger being W. D. Gaylord of Buffalo. Gaylord reached St. Michaels early in August and started for Dawson City on the steamer Hamilton, which went a few miles above the mouth of Minook creek.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Three Persons Cremated in a Pennsylvania Hotel.

Kelleysville, Pa., Oct. 25.—Three persons were burned to death and seven more were severely injured in a fire that destroyed the hotel Brooklyn. When the fire started there were 17 persons asleep in the hotel and soon all retreat was cut off.

Six men on the second floor and five on the third saved themselves by jumping from the windows to the ground below, but there was none of these who escaped without severe burns or hurts.

The fire is supposed to have originated by Professor Tucker knocking over a lamp in his bedroom, as he had had the toothache and used the lamp for making hot applications.

Democratic Editors in Council.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—One hundred and twenty-five members of the Democratic Editors' State association were present at the last session of their convention. Strong resolutions were unanimously adopted heartily endorsing the Chicago platform of 1896, recognizing the money question as the paramount issue, sending greetings to William Jennings Bryan and styling John Riley Tanner as the typical Republican governor.

Two Men Burned to Death.

New York, Oct. 25.—Two men lost their lives in a fire on Broadway, near Ninth street. When the bodies were discovered one was found in a standing position, the upper part of the body bending over a beam. The other was found at a front window, indicating that the man had struggled to reach the air and escape the flames. The fire was in a 3-story brick building owned by the Sailors' Snug Harbor estate.

Will Be Asked to Resign.

Washington, Oct. 25.—It is understood that Superintendent Duffield of the United States coast and geodetic survey will soon be asked to resign, and that it is probable that Edward S. Holden of the Lick observatory, California, or Professor H. S. Pritchett of the Washington university at St. Louis, will be appointed to the vacancy. The case is now before the president for action.

Shipped as Medicine.

Scranton, Oct. 25.—Frank Bixler, Mike O'Neill and Harry Johnson, the jewelry thieves arrested in Chicago, were brought here by Chief of Police Robling and Scranton detectives. The $1,500 worth of jewelry taken from the home of Superintendent Bogert of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western road, was recovered in fact. It had been shipped from here by express as "medicine."

Has a Cause of Action.

Toledo, Oct. 25.—The circuit court reversed the decision of the common pleas court in an action brought by Joseph B. Hughes against Dennis Conghlin, president of the Buckeye Brewing company, to recover $50,000 commission for bringing about the sale of the brewery to an English syndicate four years ago, and holds that he has a cause of action.

New York, Oct. 25.—The White squadron, consisting of the cruisers New York and Brooklyn and battleships Massachusetts, Texas and Iowa, arrived here from an extended visit in eastern waters. The New York proceeded up the bay to the navy yard, while the three big battleships and the cruiser Brooklyn anchored off Tompkinsville, S. I.

Supply of Money Reduced.

London, Oct. 25.—The Bank of England's recent borrowings have materially reduced the floating supply of money. Last week's return showed a reduction of £4,000,000 on the total deposit, caused by the hardening of rates. The sales of American securities have virtually ceased and some disposition to buy is apparent, which may send gold to the United States.

Fireproofing Wood.

Another method of fireproofing wood has been brought forward—this time at Hurlingham, where the British Non-inflammable Wood company has given an exhibition designed to demonstrate the security against fire of buildings constructed with timber treated by their new process. For the purpose of the experiment two buildings about 11 feet square and 30 in height had been set up—similar in all respects, except that one was made of "treated" timber and the other of ordinary timber, each being also furnished with a chimney for the purpose of creating a strong draft and facilitating combustion. Outside of these houses, on the windward, firewood and shavings were piled, which were set on fire simultaneously. In five minutes the building of ordinary timber was well on fire and in about half an hour reduced to ashes, while the other structure remained intact save for the charring of the woodwork on the side exposed to the direct action of the flames. A further test had meanwhile been applied by igniting a pile of shavings and fagots inside, but again the effect was merely to char the wood, which did not break into flame. A box, too, made of the treated wood and which had been placed in the midst of the ignited material was afterward drawn out practically uninjured.—New York Sun.

GEN. CHAS. E. WALCUTT

The Gray-Haired Union General and Republican Leader,

The Life-Long Friend of John Sherman and Personal Friend of President McKinley, Appeals to His Friends and Late Comrades in Arms.

"Save the Republican Party in Ohio and the Administration of President McKinley"

"FROM THE IGNOMINIOUS DISGRACE OF MARK HANNA."

A TERRIFIC ARRAIGNMENT.

"There Will Never Be Another Republican President if Hanna Is Successful."

"We Must Wipe Him Out of Existence"; "He Represents Nothing That Is Dear to the Republican Heart."

"FOR ANY PRINCIPLE OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY."

"I CAN NOT AND WILL NOT VOTE FOR MARK HANNA."

"And I Appeal to My Republican Friends to Sustain Me and Join Me in Voting For Chapman and the Entire Democratic Ticket."

Bold, Emphatic and Thrilling Utterances of One of the Most Prominent Republicans in the State of Ohio.

Chicago, Oct. 25 1897.

General Charles E. Walcutt of Columbus, O., is stopping at the Leland hotel. He was seen by a reporter today and gave expression of his views upon the political situation in Ohio in very emphatic language. General Walcutt is one of the most prominent Republicans in the state of Ohio. He has been a leader and has held many public positions of importance, both under the state and federal governments. He has been a lifelong friend of Secretary John Sherman, and a personal friend of President McKinley. There were no more distinguished men in the war than General Walcutt, and there is no soldier living who is held in higher respect and is more beloved by his comrades than this gray haired veteran.

In reply to the question of what the political situation was in Ohio, General Walcutt said: "The party is in the most unfortunate condition. Hanna's attempt to force himself upon the party has led to party disruption and disorganization. His bold methods and his utter selfishness and lack of judgment has created a revolt throughout the state, and I am fearful that the Democrats will carry Ohio by the largest majority they have ever had in its history."

The reporter asked the cause of this. The general said: "It dates back some distance President McKinley, for whom I have the highest regard, and who has been my personal friend for several years, has, unfortunately, fallen into the clutches of Hanna, who owns him absolutely and uses him for a plaything and a pocket-piece. Some years ago McKinley became bankrupt in business and Hanna and others very generously raised money enough to pay McKinley's debts. By this act of apparent generosity, they paid off the mortgages that others held against McKinley and placed a mortgage upon him. Since that date Hanna has appeared to own McKinley absolutely. I speak not to disparage the president, but to allude to the unfortunate circumstances that placed him in the hands of such a brutal master as Mark Hanna has proven to be. He is not McKinley's friend. He is simply using McKinley to further his own selfish ends. Mr. McKinley seems to be perfectly helpless and now Hanna since he is seeking to gratify his own ambitions is hiding under the shadow of the administration and pleading for the Republicans to vote for him because his election would mean the endorsement of the administration. This is a lie and

Will Not Deceive Anybody. I don't dispute but that Hanna rendered great service to his party in the last year and had he been content with a cabinet place all of the Republicans would have approved of the appointment. But he began by crowding John Sherman out of the senate, which he has honored for 20 years and he secured this place in the senate to carry out the corrupt promises that were made in the last campaign to the indignation and trust of the country.

"We feel sorry for Bushnell. By his weakness he permitted George B. Cox, the bully of Cincinnati and the boss, to dictate to him and compelled him to appoint Hanna. He fell into the trap that was set for him, and he thought he was doing what was best for party harmony, but, when he appointed Hanna, he destroyed our party organization, disappointed his friends and insulted Senator Foraker. It was a sad hour for the Republican party of Ohio when Governor Bushnell weakly consented to Cox's dictation and made Hanna senator. Governor Bushnell's treatment since is an example of as base treachery and outrageous lying as any decent man was ever subjected to. This was done at Toledo, when all of Bushnell's friends were set aside. Hanna was cruel in his plans and purpose to crush out our party organization. He succeeded. He forced himself on the party as a candidate for senator. Later on, he solicited George K. Nash to act as chairman of his committee. Nash was inveigled into the scheme by the pleas for party harmony. No Republican in Ohio stands higher than Nash, and we all respect him. But he has only become an understudy for this detestable and odious man, Charles Dick."

You don't like Dick, then? Inquired the reporter. "G—d— Dick. When such a creature as he is has again taken the helm of the Republican party, and make a subordinate out of George K. Nash, it is enough to make every honest Republican in the state of Ohio turn in disgust from his party organization. By the selection of such a man as Dick, who was caught trying to buy the Populists by issuing checks, Hanna showed that he had no respect or regard for decency and public opinion, and he attempted by his methods to gain control of the party machinery and drive Republicans to his support. Hanna has no claim upon the party. He never did anything for his party, or for his country, except that during the war, when the rest of us were fighting, he Hired Two Substitutes. Cleveland only had one. I have no warfare to make upon President McKinley and his administration, both as an individual and as an official, but we must defeat Hanna to save the Republican party in Ohio, and to prevent the ignominious disgrace of the administration. If Hanna is successful, the Republican party in this country will be destroyed, and I am afraid there will never be another Republican president. He cares nothing for McKinley except as he can use him. I endorse every word that Colonel Conger has said. I have always been a Republican, and shall always be true to its principles, but, in this contest, I propose to stand with all my Republican friends and my old comrades in arms, to defeat and crush out Hannaism. We must wipe him out of existence. It is the only way to save the Republican party and President McKinley's administration. I will not vote for Hanna, and I appeal to every one of my Republican friends to sustain me, and I know there are thousands who will join me in voting for Chapman and the entire Democratic ticket.

Nothing in Hanna.

"There is nothing in Hanna or his methods that represent anything that is dear to the Republican heart, or any principle of the Republican party. It is sickening to see this brutal boss trying to fill the shoes of such men as Wade, Chase, Sherman and other leaders of the Republican party, that have made it all it is. I cannot and will not vote for Mark Hanna, and in voting against him I feel that I am doing a service to President McKinley and his administration and to the Republican party."

"It is Hanna that has prevented President McKinley from recognizing Cuba, and giving her independence. By his pusillanimous and cowardly course the administration has repudiated every pledge made by the Republican party in behalf of Cuba. Had Senator Foraker's courageous and heroic policy been pursued Cuba would have been free today."

General Walcutt's bold and emphatic utterances were thrilling and shows the true situation of affairs in Ohio, and points to an overwhelming Democratic victory.

A NEW TELEPHONE.

Built For the Public, Yet With All the Advantages of a Private Instrument.

A new telephone for which great things are promised was exhibited in the office of a telephone company in New York a few days ago. Its inventor claims that although intended for a public telephone it will have all the advantages of a private telephone without having any of the disadvantages. The new telephone is said to be a radical improvement on the present system, and will not only dispense with the services of the operators at the exchange, but will materially lessen the cost of maintenance of the system by requiring fewer wires.

The new telephone has a switch with 50 or more numbers on it, and to call a subscriber it is necessary only to put a plug in the hole corresponding to the subscriber's number and turn the switch, when he is called up instantly without disturbing the bells of any of the other subscribers on the line.

The present private line system requires the ringing of all the bells on the line one, two or more times, according to the number wanted. Under the existing system it is necessary to have two wires from the central office for each subscriber, while the new telephone will require only five or six wires for 100 or more, the idea being that there will always be a wire not in use. The telephone is switched automatically to this wire, and if all are in use the mechanism is so arranged that it will make a metallic circuit on the first unused wire. It will not, however, cut in on a busy wire.—New York Sun.

LOST IN A NIGHT.

Young Girl Wakes to Find Herself Without a Voice.

Bessie Smith, the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Smith of Park street, Alameda, lost her voice very peculiarly the other night. Her case has puzzled the physicians. The girl retired in gay spirits and apparently in the best of health. During the night she awoke her mother and attempted to speak, but could not utter a word. Mrs. Smith became somewhat alarmed, but thought her daughter was suffering from a cold which would soon pass away with the aid of simple home remedies. The next day there was no change, although Miss Bessie was apparently in her usual good health. Dr. C. L. Tisdale was summoned, and he said that the girl was suffering from the most puzzling case of aphonia which had ever come to his notice. She seemed to be in full possession of all her faculties, but when she attempted to speak she could not utter a sound. The child is naturally strong, and her affliction has bothered her a great deal. She is an ambitious girl and desires to be at school.

"It is not uncommon for children to lose temporarily the use of vocal organs," said Dr. Tisdale, "but this child seems to be well in every way, and it would seem that there is no apparent cause for her affliction. There is no paralysis of the vocal chord, nor has she a cold."—San Francisco Chronicle.

FLIM-FLAMMERS CAUGHT.

They "Marked" Cattlemen Who Were sailing for Europe.

New York Oct. 25.—Willard Walker, 42, said by the police to be an old offender who stated that his home is in Buffalo and John F. Ellis, 44, of this city were arraigned in the Jefferson Market police court, charged with working a "flim flam" game on men leaving for Europe on cattle ships of the Anchor line.

Complaints had been made to the police by cattle men who had been swindled out of money by two men answering the descriptions of the prisoners. The latter, it is alleged, get the cattle men to buy spurious bonds, telling them they could be cashed in either London or Liverpool.

When searched the prisoners had two finely executed bonds, one of which had the name "Bank of Engraving" on it and the other had the heading "Massachusetts and Montana Gold and Silver Mining company."

The men waived examination, and were remanded back to police headquarters. It is expected that more evidence against them will be produced.

LEE OUTLIP

The Only Reformatory Escape Who Has Not Been Recaptured.

George Moore, one of the two prisoners who had eluded recapture up to yesterday, was caught last night by guard Collier at Kent. Moore boarded a freight train at Akron. The conductor of the train recognized the prisoner by the description given and wired to Kent, where guard Collier was on hand to receive him. Moore was found in a box car and taken into custody. The guard arrived home with the prisoner in charge. But one prisoner, Lee Outlip, is still at large. Moore stated that he left Outlip at Akron and it is very likely that the latter will be corralled soon. —Mansfield Shield.

MUSICAL CHAT.

Mr. Francis Walker, of Chicago, a fine baritone singer, just recently returned from European studies, was the guest of his friend, professor Clint Richmond, for a few hours on Friday. Mr. Walker makes a specialty of giving lecture recitals, illustrating his lectures with the greatest of songs, and describing and giving the history of the songs before singing them, thus greatly adding to the pleasure of all who hear. Prof. Richmond speaks in glowing words of his friend and hopes that Lima may hear him in a lecture recital.

The Y. M. C. A. lecture course this year presents a strong card in the musical numbers shown by its preliminary Star Course announcement. Beginning with its initial number by that prince of violinists, Remenyi, and his concert company, on next Friday evening, it certainly by this speaks forth for good things the entire year. There is only one Remenyi, who loves and caresses his velvety-toned instrument as he makes it speak the entire gamut of feelings to the souls of his hearers, now laughter and joy, now tears and sorrow; now the tenderest love and affection, and now fiercest hate and passion, will be heard on next Friday evening at the Congregational church, beginning the Y. M. C. A. Star Course. He brings with him a soprano who is said to be superb, and his accompanist is equally fine. Two additional musical entertainments are given in the course. The Clara Schumann Ladies' Orchestra, which so delighted all who heard them on their last visit to Lima, will come enlarged and improved. The final musical attraction will be the Davis-Elliott-Brice trio, all of highest merit and sure to be great favorites with our people. From a musical standpoint the course is beyond criticism.

The Sappho held its second meeting at the home of Mrs. R. J. Thompson on west Market street, Thursday afternoon. An enjoyable session was held. The following programme highly pleased all who were present:

The Elstedford to be held in Columbus on New Year's Day 1898 promises to be one of the most interesting musical contests ever held in the state. Already six or seven large choirs have expressed their intention to be present. A movement is on foot by the Choral Society to have a chorus of sixty selected voices to participate in this, probably, greatest singing competition ever held in Ohio. The sessions of the Elstedford will be held in the Auditorium, which has a capacity of over 4,000.

St. Rose's choir, under Mr. George Feltz as leader, is getting ready for a series of concerts to help the building fund for their pastor's new residence. The choir has been enlarged to 35 voices, and is GREATER NEW YORK.

Republican Success Means Curtailment of the People's Rights.

The government which will have to be started for the greater city must receive its first impression from either Republicans or Democrats. The former, should they succeed in the election, would try to curtail the rights and powers of the people at every possible point. They would try to enforce their well known theory that the moneyed class should alone be consulted as to public expenditures, and the offices would be distributed among the relatives and friends of the rich, who are constantly letting it be known that they consider themselves much better than those who have to toil for a living.

The Democratic spirit is a very different one, and its dominance in the greater city of New York ought to be assured beyond dispute by the election of Judge Van Wyck and his associates. The government ought to be held in trust for and administered in the interest of all the people, be they rich or poor, and, if anything, the benefits conferred by it should go to those who have to struggle hardest for themselves, their wives and their little ones.

THE DINGLEY DEFICIT.

Not Increasing While the Trusts Are Wallowing in Prosperity.

The deficits of revenue still increase. Though, according to McKinley, Hanna and Dingley, it was necessary to call an extra session of congress in order to pass a tariff act which would produce enough revenue to the treasury which was the outcome of their deliberations has already rolled up a deficit of some $15,000,000 in two months.

This is a most surprising record. The internal revenue taxes which the Republicans overlooked produced $1,000,000 increase, yet the total deficit was larger than ever before in our history. If continued at this rate, it would produce a deficit of over $100,000,000 instead of the increased revenue of $113,000,000 predicted by Mr. Dingley in his first guess.

The deficits seem to be regarded pretty coolly by the Republicans. They need reminding that only a few months ago they were loudly asserting that the deficits of the Wilson tariff were ruining business. Now the Dingley deficits are doubly greater. Are they not ruining business?

When the Republicans called their extra session to carry out their agreements with the trusts, it was announced that the first work would be "to restore confidence" by making the receipts equal to the expenditures. Well, the receipts are not equal to the expenditures by some $15,000,000. Are we to understand that confidence has been restored in some unpremeditated, impulsive way?

Singularly enough, the Hanna papers that harped so long on deficits have no more to say on the subject. In their lexicons there is no such word as deficit. When the topic is introduced, they resolutely look the other way and maintain a silence as profound as that of Hill McKinley before he secured the Republican nomination. The worst of it is that the Hannaites have an argument, if they only knew it. They could point to the fact that though the government's account is overdrawn and its debt increases, the trusts are literally wallowing in prosperity.—Kansas City Times.

UNION PACIFIC ROBBERY.

A Monstrous Job Planned to Cheat the Government Out of $20,000,000.

A ring has all its plans laid to capture the Union Pacific railroad and cheat the government out of at least $20,000,000. If this plot succeeds, it will be followed by a similar robbery in the case of the Central Pacific.

Conspicuous among the members of this ring are J. Pierpont Morgan and Collis P. Huntington.

Attorney General McKenna, who consents to this robbery, was appointed to his place in the cabinet through the influence of Huntington.

No honest reason exists why the Union Pacific should not be made to pay every dollar of its debt to the government. The aided portion, on which the government has its lien, is a paying property.

Congress refused to authorize the deal with the ring, known as the reorganization committee, which, with the active concurrence of the attorney general, will be consummated unless the president forbids. This he has ample power to do. The law of 1887 provides a way for dealing with the Union Pacific whereby the treasury can be protected against this intended plunder and the whole debt collected.

Why should the administration hasten to do between sessions of congress what congress has declined to sanction? That body will convene again within less than two months, and a matter so important as the public's interest in the Union Pacific railroad cannot in decency be disposed of without the participation of the people's representatives.

The Union Pacific ring has hatched a monstrous job of brigandage, and the administration is threatened with a scandal the like of which has not shamed the country since the Credit Mobilier exposure.

President McKinley's own reputation is at stake.—New York Journal.

His Blander.

A friend of mine, says James Payn, had a colonial acquaintance who was very like a certain eminent diplomatist and plumed himself upon it. My friend met him one evening at a reception, with ever so large a star on his breast. "Oh, come, Jack, this won't do! I don't believe there are orders of that size in the other hemisphere. Where did you get it from?" The much decorated one smiled sweetly on him and replied in excellent English: "I received it from my sovereign, sir. I think you are in some error. I am the — ambassador."

To the Point.

Mr. Bryan made a telling point against the Republican currency policy when he remarked that if the gold standard was such a fine thing it was curious that the people should be made to pay a tourist commission $100,000 to try to persuade Europe to let us get rid of it.

Mrs. Johanna Curren, Almost a Centenarian, Died This Morning.

Martin Hughes, of 434 North Pine street, who has been in declining health for the past two years, answered death's summons at 6:30 this morning. The deceased has been a resident of Lima for the past 34 years, and is well and favorably known to most of the old pioneers. At the time of death he was aged 78 years. His place of birth was in Ireland. A wife and six children survive him. Four sons, all residents of this city, and two daughters, one residing in Chicago and the other in Botkins. The funeral will take place from St. Rose church, Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Gethsemani.

Mrs. Johanna Curren, who had outlived the allotted time of four score and ten years of life, passed away this morning at 6 o'clock, at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Martin Murphy, 115 east Findlay street, at the advanced age of 98 years. "Grandma" Curren, as she was known, had been a resident of Lima for many years, and had been very feeble for the past ten years. The cause of death was old age. The funeral services will be held at St. Rose Church Wednesday morning, and the interment at Gethsemani.

AMONG THE RAILROADS.

HELPING THE D. & L. N.

It is evident that the city of Detroit, says the Toledo Bee, is giving the Detroit & Lima Northern all the assistance possible in its fight with the larger roads, especially the Lake Shore and the Michigan Central. Mayor Mahony sounded the keynote to the situation some weeks ago when he declared himself ready to render the little road whatever assistance he could in its efforts to extend its tracks and otherwise improve its facilities. It is said that the freight men in the employ of the Detroit & Lima Northern never let anything escape and that rate cutting has reached such proportions that competing lines have been compelled to take notice of it. This has been evident at the several traffic meetings held in Toledo. It is said further that the Lake Shore and the Michigan Central roads are now making preparations to meet the new competition which the Lima Northern promises from Toledo to Detroit. The Michigan Central is taking to Detroit several of its heaviest engines from other parts of its route, and will use them to pull longer trains than have ever been run between Toledo and Detroit. The Lake Shore, it is claimed, is also preparing additional equipment with a view of meeting the cut rates of the D. & L. N.

C. & D. TRAINS ABANDONED.

The first of next month the D. & L. N. will run through trains from Lima to Allegan, Michigan. The D. & L. N. will now have a through line to the lakes.

Switchman Halterman of the L. E. & W., who has been laid up for several weeks on account of an injury he sustained by falling off a box car, returned to work this morning.

John F. Cooper, foreman of the shops of the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City, at Frankfort, and at one time with the Lake Erie & Western, was buried Thursday at Frankfort. He was for twelve years superintendent of the Lafayette car works.

Engineer Mathers, who was injured in the wreck at Greencastle last week, died at his home at Dayton last Saturday. Mr. Mathers was for a long time an employee of the road and was considered one of the best engineers in the employ of the company.

The C. & E. have met the D. & L. N. on the rates to Detroit for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and have advertised excursion rates for 75 cents for parties of five or more. Another battle can be expected and the D. & L. N. will no doubt go the 75 cent rate one better.

give it to me instead of sending it in. I will then give it to Senator Hanna, who will know just when to file it."

Well," said Hull, "I won't write it out just now. I've got to go down east in a few days on business, and I'll drop into Washington and see how matters stand. I want to see Senator Brice before resigning anyhow."

Thereupon Waldorf sat down and wrote a letter of introduction to Major Dick, secretary of the Republican national committee, and asked Hull to see Dick and Hanna.

Hull went to Washington, and learned there that Waldorf, Hanna and Dick had tried to have Hull removed just as Waldorf got collector Johnson removed under the Harrison administration. But President McKinley said he didn't like to do it, as Hull was a good fellow and had made a splendid record for his office. Then it was that Hanna, Dick and Waldorf tried the scheme of working on Hull to resign. But collector Hull was too foxy and refused.

He saw it was a neat little scheme to have Waldorf appointed without the Foraker men having a chance to know any appointment was to be made. In this way Hanna and Dick expected to outwit Foraker.

Waldorf told Hull during the interview that it was all fixed by Hanna and Dick with the president to appoint Waldorf.

When Hull went to Washington he did not call on Major Dick, and he still has in his possession Waldorf's letter of introduction to Dick. He is saving it as a souvenir of George Waldorf's cunning.

The convention in April showed that Waldorf knew Hanna's game. He told Hull that the Hanna men would not trust the Foraker men, and that they proposed to nominate men in every county who would pledge themselves to be for Hanna against anybody. He said it was Hanna's wish that he, Waldorf, should manage Hanna's interest in this neck of the woods. And Waldorf said it was definitely settled that he was to be collector of internal revenue.

This story will interest the Foraker men. It will give them an idea

SUNDAY MORNING FIRE.

Remarkable Work of the Central Fire Department Yesterday.

At 6.15 o'clock yesterday morning fire was discovered in the Coes & Stinebaugh factory at Jackson street and the Findlay road, and an alarm was sounded from box 15. The central fire department turned out, and in just six minutes after the alarm sounded, the fire crew had made the long run and had a stream of water on the flames. The fire had evidently started in the boiler room, and had spread with great rapidity in the face of dust. Considerable water was thrown and the fire was extinguished before any great damage was done. The machinery was well watered but was otherwise not damaged.

To-day the firemen enjoyed a box of cigars that were presented by Mr. Stinebaugh.

MISS JESSIE MAE HALL

"The Princess of Patches," to be presented to-night, is described as a beautiful four act southern drama which gives Miss Hall ample opportunities to make good the assertions that she is pre-eminent as an actress of child roles, for, from the very first entrance of the roguish little make-believe princess, entirely concealed in an ordinary sugar barrel, until the fall of the curtain on the last act, little Miss Hall holds the admiration of every auditor. Her singing in this play is some of the very best which she will do during the week.

tion. The home team was greatly weakened by the loss of Geo. Maurer, the full back, who could not play on account of a sprained ankle. Had he been in his position, it was believed that the score would have been different. Every one in the home team played hard, and they were complimented by the visitors on the way they would work the "centre formations" and the backs. The Lima boys, by playing against a team that was their equal, were able to discover their weak points. The boys are strong in the offensive play and every time that they had the ball they made good gains either around the ends or through the opening line. Morris and Ashton did excellent work with their rushes. The boys are weak through on their defensive playing and should attempt to improve in this. The team, when their adversaries have the ball, do not hold their line close enough together, and thus make openings. They separate for the opposing rushes. Mattison played a good centre against a large and heavy opponent.

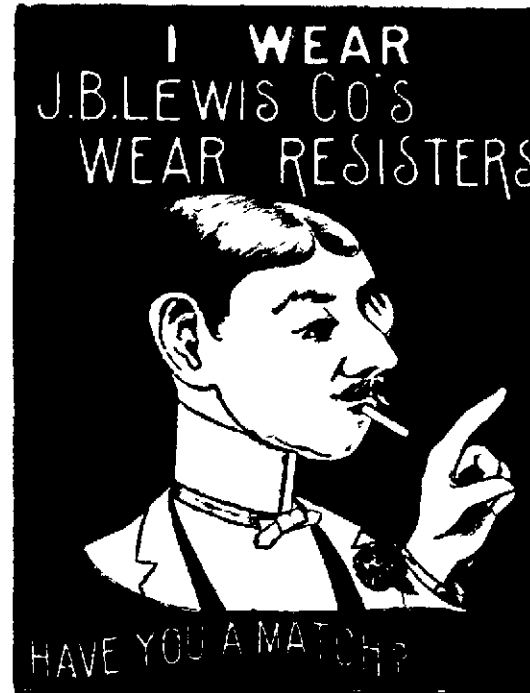

The Lima boys made the first kick off and gradually, by a succession of small gains, the ball was carried to within 4 yards of Lima's goal. There Toledo lost it. Fee tried an end but was not equal to the occasion. Morris encircled the left end for fifteen yards. The ball gradually crawled towards the center. It was lost on a fumble and Toledo started again towards the Lima goal line and crossed it near the south touch line. A poor punt out was made and the try at goal failed. The time occupied in closing this was 22 minutes. After another three minutes play the teams rested for 10 minutes.

In the second half captain Ashton's men played with a vengeance, but it was all in vain; the visitors, by some pretty playing, carried the ball over the goal line again, but as before failed at goal. It required just 17 1/2 minutes for the visitors to demonstrate their power to win a point. There was just a minute and a half to play, Lima had the ball, and the boys played like heroes. They were moving westward, and had hopes to obtain one touch down, but when they were on the visitors' 50 yard line time was called and the game was ended. The Fremont team will be at Lima Wednesday and a good game can be assured. Friday the same team will play the Toledo eleven.

A MODEL BUILDING.

TWO WOMEN ARCHITECTS MAY HAVE SOLVED THE TENEMENT PROBLEM.

A Year Spent In Doing It—There Will Be No Hallways—Many Unique Improvements Are to Be Made—Will Be Situated in New York.

Two young women, Miss Mary Nevins Gannon and Miss Alice J. Hands, have solved the tenement house problem. Plans for a building designed by them have been filed at the office of the building department in New York. Within a few weeks ground will be broken for it in New York.

For a year these girls lived among the poor. They have suffered from want of proper ventilation and light. They know the hardships of being cooped up in two small, stuffy rooms, without a breathing spot to go to on warm nights. Out of their experience has grown a plan so simple, so perfect, that Jacob Rius, whose writings on tenement life have won for him worldwide celebrity, says: "Consider it an extraordinary and marvelous achievement; marvelous in its simplicity and demonstration. We have all been groping within reach of the solution without finding it. I am content to know that the question I judged incapable of solution has been solved after all."

"The house will be a fact before many months," said Miss Gannon recently, "for well known architects have examined our drawings, and there is no doubt we shall soon receive a permit to go on with the building."

"When Miss Hands and I made up our minds to plan a tenement house, we realized how very little we knew of the life in one. We could design a home for ourselves. We have built many pretty villas along the Jersey coast and elsewhere, but how provide for people of whose necessities we knew nothing? That was a serious question, and there was but one way to answer it—to go and get acquainted with such people and their needs."

"We went down to Forsythe street and hired two rooms. Nobody knew us or our reason for going there. We began housekeeping under just about the same conditions as though we were two poor factory girls. We made our home as pretty as possible, but that was due to judgment in buying rather than expense. We never called upon our neighbors unless there was some reason for doing so, but we went out of the way to find a reason, for we wanted to become acquainted with them."

"Take the smallest apartment in the house we have planned and see what it offers—three rooms, all lighted and well ventilated, and a closet 3 by 6 feet in each one, not built in wardrobes, but regular closets. First there is the living room, which contains a built in range for coal and gas, a sink with hot and cold water and a large kitchen dresser. Adjoining this room, but entirely separate, is a room where the tubs are situated, a sort of extra room. It contains two stationary washtrubs with sliding partition between them, which when removed converts them into a bathtub. Other conveniences are entirely separate, screened with partitions. The floor of this room is cemented and the walls are of hard finished plaster, which permit of turning on the hose and flushing it thoroughly. The sleeping room is commodious, and, like the others, is well ventilated. All the rooms open either on to the street or inner court, which is 29.6 feet by 50 feet. At night this will be lighted with arc lights. Each apartment has a large balcony without any opening, like a fire escape, and is capable of accommodating the entire family."

"There are no halls in this model tenement. The stairs are situated in the courtyard, and the rooms are entered through the balconies. In the center of the staircase is a freight elevator."

"In a building of this kind no particular style of architecture has been followed. It is nearer the renaissance than anything else, as near renaissance as practical for the purposes intended. It will be of buff brick, with limestone trimmings, six stories high and 50 by 100 feet. There will be eight apartments on each floor, and the rents will range from $8 to $18 a month for three to six rooms. The building is fireproof, and we have been given the lowest insurance rates of any tenement house in New York."

"It would be difficult to tell what share each of us has taken in the work," said Miss Hands. "We are partners, and we work together with just one end in view—success. One will suggest something, the other something else, and we work until we get what we think is best. We try to be practical and to remember we are planning for those who are going to live in the house, not ourselves. In thinking of the tenants we have not forgotten the stockholders who will put up the building. We have tried to utilize every inch of space to the best advantage."

"While it is not a charitable scheme, it is one which cannot fail to appeal to those interested in helping the wage earner secure for himself and family better surroundings. The promoters include Clarence M. Hyde, J. J. Pierpont Morgan, James J. Goodwin, Mrs. Morris K. Jesup, John M. Dillon and Mrs. Josephine Shaw Lowell."

Miss Gannon and Miss Hands are both graduates of the New York School of Applied Design. They are the first women to have their drawings hung at the Architectural League. Miss Gannon is from Bethlehem, Pa. Before coming to New York she studied in an architect's office there, where she learned the practical part of her work. Miss Hands is a New Yorker. Both are young and pretty and devoted to their profession. They have an office in New York—New York Journal.

Miss Hands and Miss Gannon are the names of two Butler county girls attending college at Wichita—Kansas City Times.

MUNYON'S

RHEUMATISM

A Friend Worth Knowing.

Needham was at a little reception the other evening and, as usual, was making himself conspicuous by his audible remarks concerning the notable persons of his acquaintance and trying to make himself agreeable to every one who appeared we do, with an eye to the possibility of raising the wind at some time the near future.

During the evening he came to face with a nice, kind, fat, friendly looking old gentleman, who greeted him dubiously. This was an opportunity not to be lost.

"My dear sir," said Needham effusively, "I am quite sure that we have met before, but I am unable to recall where."

"Yes," replied the old gentleman quietly, "I know that I have seen you before. Your face is familiar."

They spent a few minutes together; then the old gentleman left. Needham noticed that he was treated with great respect and decided to learn more about him.

"I am confident that I know that gentlemen very well," he said to one of the guests, "but I have so many influential friends and acquaintances that it is not surprising that I do not remember him or his name."

"Yes, he is very wealthy and well known," returned the other, who was not deceived as to Needham's character. "I dare say you've seen him. He is the phonybroker!"

Needham remembered that he had another engagement. — Pearson's Weekly.

The Winding Up of an Englishman. It was a shrewd observation of one of the keenest critics of the Anglo-Saxon mind that ever lived, Cardinal Newman, that it takes an immense time to wind up an Englishman to the level of a dogma—that is to say, to get him to understand what a dogma is, what it involves, what it necessarily asserts and what it unavoidably denies. Often when, after great toil, with pulleys and hoists, encouragements in front and goads behind, the Englishman's bullet head slowly appears almost on the level of the ground, something goes wrong somewhere, and down he falls to the very bottom of the pit, and the work of winding him up has to be begun all over again. — "The Law of Employers," by Augustine Birrell.

For every word You ever heard Some jingle I'll find quickly. My meter's fine. Superb, divine. My rhythm never sickly.

Well now, in view Of these facts true, T seems very strange and funny I never get (To my regret) The chance to jingle money. —Edward Juddell in New York Journal.

A SPEEDY HOUSEBOAT.

New Craft Designed by a New Yorker For Winter Cruising.

Thomas A. McIntyre of the New York Yacht club is going to have a novel kind of houseboat for the use of his family in southern waters this winter. He has taken the stern wheel steamer George Parady, originally built for transportation use at Jacksonville, N. C., and put it in the hands of a company, to be altered according to his directions to suit new requirements.

The draft of this vessel is only 2 feet, but she is 85 feet long over all, with 10 feet of beam. These dimensions allow a great deal of room to the occupants, of which Mr. McIntyre, in fitting her up, will take full advantage.

Directly aft of the boiler compartment forward are the crew's quarters. Next aft comes a galley, 6 by 11 feet, and a dining room, 11 by 14½ feet, and two staterooms, each 6 by 11 feet. Aft of the staterooms is a woman's room, 11 by 6½ feet, and next the engine compartment.

The cabins are finished throughout in white and gold, and the boat will be steam heated. There is a promenade deck overhead, covered by an awning, and a naphtha launch and other small boats are carried in the davits. The propelling power is a Seabury compound horizontal engine, placed astern, with which the power company people assert that the Purdy can travel at the rate of 12 miles an hour. —Exchange.

HOW TO GO TO SLEEP.

A New Plan For Overcoming Insomnia and Securing Sweet Slumber.

To the many who are troubled by restless nights it will be of interest to know the methods used by Dr. J. B. Learned of Northampton, Mass., for inducing sleep without taking drugs. He detailed his experience at the recent meeting of the British Medical association at Montreal.

As the brain, running automatically, without our consent, is generally the cause of delay in sleepcoming, he at once upon retiring sets his brain working to direct the respiratory process. The respirations must be counted to see that they are fewer in number, regular, deep and somewhat contracted. In addition certain groups of muscles are employed in silent contraction in routine order. Constant change brings different groups in use. The head may be slightly elevated from the pillow for a certain time by the count of respirations.

All this may be done so quietly that a sleeping companion is not aroused. Soon muscle and brain are in the normal state that invites sleep. The sense of fatigue causes the brain to forget its duty to regulate the breathing process, the muscles cease to expand, and sleep controls the whole system. The principles are the same for strong and weak, although the details of the method of inducing sleep are different. —Chicago Inter Ocean.

HER UNGALLANT ESCORT.

Young Lady Drew a Bicycle In a Lottery, and the Young Man Rode It Away.

That the theater ticket which is likewise a lottery ticket may lead to no end of confusion and embarrassment has been recently demonstrated in a Kansas town, when a young gallant took a young lady to the play, with the result that her ticket drew the bicycle which was the prize offered. Later he borrowed the vehicle and refused to return it on the plea that he had paid for the ticket which drew it, and that the rapture of the entertainment to which it admitted his companion was all she could legitimately lay claim to.

The courts are wrestling with the case, which is without precedent, and not likely to be repeated, as there are few gallants so slenderly equipped with chivalry and generosity as to create such a singular cause of action. —New York Tribune.

Millions In Gold Refused.

The treasury department the other day refused to receive $2,000,000 gold imports from Australia in the subtreasury at San Francisco and pay currency for it out of the New York subtreasury. The offer was refused a week before, but the bankers to whom the gold was sent renewed the offer, at the same time making an offer for paying the expenses of shipment of the gold to New York. The offer was not sufficient. Treasury officials are indifferent to receiving more gold and at least will not do so if there is any cost attached. The government can move gold from San Francisco to the east at less cost than a banking firm. The usual cost to bankers is about $2.35 per $1,000.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

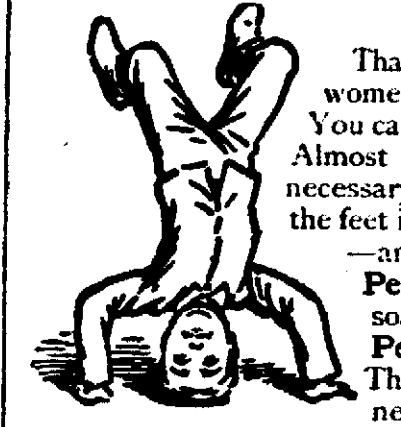

Paul de Longpre, the French flower painter, has just returned from his country place at Short Hills, N. J.

Tom Pugh of Backbone mountain, the distinguished snake hunter of Harrison county, W. Va., has done 122 rattlesnakes to death in the past summer.

Robert Pierie, the lord mayor of Belfast, who is now visiting in this country, is about 50 years old and has traveled nearly all over the world.

The khedive of Egypt has bestowed on Edward Randall Knowles, LL. D., of West Sudbury, Mass., the decoration of commander of the order of the Medjidie in recognition of his work, "Supremacy of the Spiritual," published two years ago.

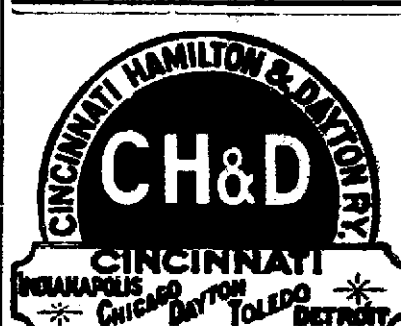

The bronze statue for the memorial to Harvey Rice, "the father of the Ohio school system," will soon be cast. Ding Cio Sui of Fuhau, China, who is said to be the greatest Chinese inventor, has recently invented a machine for spinning cotton and has filed an application for a patent before the United States patent office through his attorneys.

Doing "stunts."

That seems to be the case with the women who are washing in the old way. You can stand on your head, for instance. Almost everyone could do it, if it were necessary or desirable. But standing on the feet is more natural and more sensible—and easier. So with soap and Pearlina. Everyone can wash with soap—many do. But washing with Pearlina is easier and more sensible. The hard work of soap is neither necessary nor desirable. Everyone should give up the use of soap and should use Pearlina.

Look Out Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearlina." IT'S FALSE—Pearlina is never peddled; if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—and it isn't. JAMES FYLE, New York.

Behaved by a Piece of Iron.

A fatal boiler explosion occurred recently on the William Russell farm, near Findlay, O., which is being operated for oil by a company of Cincinnati men. S. H. McLaughlin, one of the drillers, was sleeping when the explosion occurred. The crown sheet blew out. It struck McLaughlin on the neck and beheaded him as if with a knife, the head being thrown a distance of 125 feet. The body was thrown about 20 feet in another direction, and outside of the decompartment did not bear a single mark. —Cleveland Leader.

The work is very beautiful and was nicely carried out, which made the event a notable one for the local branch.

Messrs. Charles Durbin, Con. Sullivan, B. Murphy, Alex. Durbin and Misses Minnie, Kittie, Nova and Hannah Sullivan, Margaret Dunn, Sarah Breanan and Helen Durbin composed one of the jolliest nutting parties of the season yesterday. The day and also an elaborate dinner was greatly enjoyed in the woods and no hickory nuts were left for others.

THE STANDARD

Will Erect a Handsome Office Building in Lima.

With Supt. D. J. O'Day and purchasing agent T. A. McLaughlin, of the Buckeye Pipe Line Company, the reliable authority, it may be announced that the Standard Oil Company will soon erect a handsome office building in this city. The site for the structure has not yet been purchased, but will undoubtedly be selected this week, and work will be commenced as soon as possible. The site must be one not surrounded by other large buildings, as plenty of light is required, and consequently the investment will be one of great value to surrounding property as it will open a new portion of the city for business house locations. The building will have not less than 90 feet frontage and will be 60 feet deep. It will be three and probably four stories high and will be modeled to accommodate the Standard's local offices of all branches, including all the offices of the Buckeye Pipe Line, Ohio Oil Company and National Transit Company.

The matter is entirely in the hands of the local officials of the company and to them is due all credit for this important advancement of Lima.

GABLE IS DEAD.

Lived Twenty-Seven Hours in Terrible Agony.

HE REMAINED UNCONSCIOUS

And Battled Against Death in Convulsions—New Developments in the Case—Remains Taken to Cincinnati To-day for Burial.

William Gable, an account of whose double attempt to commit suicide by swallowing poison and sending a bullet into his brain appeared in the TIMES-DEMOCRAT Saturday, died at the Myers hospital at 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The hand of death closed slowly but surely over the victim from the moment the fatal bullet entered his brain, although for more than 27 hours Gable's rugged constitution battled against the grim reaper. His awful agony evidenced by the convulsions of his unconscious form were pitiful and if conscious for but a single moment he paid dearly for the deed he committed. The bullet produced convulsions of the brain and the poison caused convulsions almost continually until death claimed all that was mortal of the unhappy man.

TAKEN TO GROESJEAN'S.

Soon after death occurred, Gable's remains were removed to Groesjean's undertaking establishment and prepared for burial. The body remained at Groesjean's morgue until 8 o'clock this morning, when it was removed to the late home of the deceased at 1300 east High street. Here, though no funeral services were held, the remains were viewed by the grieving relatives, and at 9:40 o'clock the family left with the remains on the C., H. & D. train 1, for Cincinnati, where interment will be made and Mrs. Gable and her family will make their future home.

POISON WAS TOO SLOW.

After recovering from the first effects of the shock occasioned by her husband's act, Mrs. Gable remembered and stated that some time before the unconscious man was found Saturday morning, he returned from the field to the house and inquired for his brother-in-law. The latter was not at the house, however, and it is supposed that Gable merely made the inquiry as an excuse for having returned to the house. Soon after he returned to the field the shots were heard, and it is now supposed that the object of the visit to the house was to secure possession of the revolver. Gable swallowed the poison, aconite, soon after having eaten his breakfast and the result was that on a full stomach the drug was slow to accomplish its fatal work, consequently Gable is supposed to have feared that the poison would not produce death and resorted to the use of the weapon.

Coroner Stueber will hold an inquest, but did not consider a post mortem examination necessary.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

A. M. Johnson and Joe Allison to Embark in the Livery Business.

A. M. Johnson, who was recently released from a position as a through freight conductor on the L. E. & W., and his brother-in-law, J. W. Allison, a brakeman on the road mentioned who is now laid up with an injured hand, have purchased the Boy-sell livery establishment on east Kirby street from Len Heisel. The latter, in partnership with Charles Daley, of the central fire department, has purchased the Murdock and Clutter livery stable outfit and will consolidate the two at the barn in the alley at the southwest corner of the public square.

TWO GEORGES.

One is In Now; the Other is Out, but Wants In.

LETTER THAT NEVER WENT

To Chairman Dick as an Introduction Medium from Colonel Waldorf—Brer Hull Was Too Fazy to See It.

George P. Waldorf is to be collector of internal revenue if Hanna is elected senator.

He has the promise of Hanna and Dick that he shall have Geo. Hull's job at the proper time.

And the story comes from Waldorf himself. Several months ago he went to collector Hull and gave him a story like this:

"Now, Hull, it's all fixed that I am to be appointed collector. I have been east and had a conference with Hanna and Dick and the whole thing is fixed up. What I want you to do is to resign so I can be appointed right away, and if you do this I will divide the salary with you from the time I am appointed up to the time your four years expire. Senator Hanna wants me to manage his senatorial campaign in northwestern Ohio, and thinks I can do it much better while holding the position of collector of internal revenue. We are not going to trust the Foraker men this time, for we don't want to give them a chance to turn us down like they did at Zanesville, when they nominated Bushnell and beat Nash. We want to organize our friends and senator Hanna wants me in this position, as the prestige will be a help."

Collector Hull, knowing Waldorf of old, when they were in Allen county politics, was fazy. He said:

"I've got this telephone business to look after now and it may be that I will want to resign and devote my time wholly to that. How would it do for me to draw all the salary until July 1, and resign then?"

It was in April that the interview took place, and in collector Hull's office.

Waldorf said he would like to have it done right away, so as to get his Hanna machine in operation. He said:

"The sooner it is done the better. The change is going to be made anyhow, but Senator Hanna would prefer that you resign now. He and Dick suggested that you make out your resignation in a formal way and

YOUNG ROBBER

Captured Saturday Night by Policeman O'Brien.

IS WANTED AT LEIPSIK,

Where He is Alleged to Have Robbed a Farmer of $45 in Cash and a Check for $35—Claims He Was in Turn Robbed by Companions.

Saturday afternoon detective Wiles, of the C., H. & D., was notified by the marshal of Leipsic to look out for a young man giving his name as Geo. Dillon, who was wanted at that place for having robbed a farmer of $45 in money and a check for $25. Detective Wiles traced the young fellow to this city, and being away from the city telegraphed the local police and the lad was cleverly apprehended and captured by patrolman Harry O'Brien Saturday evening.

At the police station the young fellow, who is a big, overgrown boy about 17 years of age, gave his name as Albert Wilkinson. The check for $25, issued by Z. H. Travis and made payable to Frank Osceon, was found in one of the prisoner's pockets, and he admitted that he had had $45 in money, but claimed that his brother had given it to him and that it had been taken from him by some fellows who came to this city with him from Leipsic. He had on two suits of clothing and claimed that the fellows who took the money had got him drunk and had put the clothes on him. He remained at the police station until this morning, when detective Wiles returned with him to Leipsic.

NOTES ABOUT THE STATION.

A young colored woman who started from St. Marys to go to Cincinnati with her husband got separated from the latter here last night and was given lodging in the women's department at the police station. She started to walk back to St. Marys this morning.

A fellow claiming to belong at Ft. Wayne, who has already done "time" on the stone pile in the city work house was found asleep on a porch by patrolman O'Brien, at 307 north Jackson street about 4 o'clock this morning. He was locked up for safe keeping.

A man claiming to be William Watson, of Dayton, was found in an alley on the south side. He was drunk and while lying in the alley was run over by a spring wagon but was not injured. He was allowed to sleep off his drunk in a safer place.

EIGHT TO NOTHING.

Was the Way Toledo Defeated the Lima Eleven.

ONLY TWO TOUCH DOWNS

Could the Heavy Team From Toledo Take From Ashton's Men—The Lima Boys Made Themselves Good Expectations Saturday.

The foot ball game Saturday at Fawcett's park between the Lima team and the Toledo eleven was the best game that has ever been witnessed in this city. It was close and exciting. Each team exerted every effort to put or carry the ball into the other's territory and the pig skin kept swinging from one side of the field to the other as if it was a pendulum. The ball, however, was carried twice over Lima's goal line and scored eight points for the visitors.

The Lima boys tried hard and up to the very last second exerted every particle of their muscle and skill either to withhold the onslaught of the opposing team or to carry the ball themselves towards the coveted goal. Lima lost; but it was not a loss that reflected with any discredit upon the home team. Toledo came with the expectation of defeating Ashton's team by a large score but were surprised that Lima should have such a strong team. The Toledo eleven is heavy and have several old and experienced foot ball men. The majority of their team are young men and receive but little practice, but notwithstanding this the team is a strong one. Toledo was defeated two weeks ago by the strong Detroit athletic club by a score of 10 to nothing, and the fact that Toledo had Detroit down to two touch downs and could only score two touch downs against Lima will give captain Ashton's team a good reputation. The Lima boys go to Toledo next Saturday, and are in hopes of being able to at least score against the lake team. The visitors last Saturday were all gentlemen and played good, clean ball, and the contest was intensely enjoyed. The attendance was good. A large number of ladies were in attendance, who seemed to become greatly interested in the game. The day was beautiful and the grounds in excellent condition.
